The De Kuub theatre room is part of an extension of the De Warande cultural centre in Turnhout, Belgium. The extension contains a theatre room, two rehearsal rooms, four multi purpose rooms, artist facilities, a foyer and a bar. All facilities can be used simultaneously.

The theatre is a large rectangular hall, with a high ceiling, that can accommodate theatre technology in a flexible way over the complete area of the hall. The room is used for various performances, with an emphasis on theatre and amplified music.
